CEO COMMENT

On March 25, ACQ Bure AB was listed on the Nasdaq Stockholm. It is the first Swedish Special Purpose Acquisition Company, (SPAC), under the Nasdaq's new regulations. It has been an exciting process to bring a new asset class to the Swedish market together with advisors and Nasdaq. It was also encouraging that interest in ACQ's listing was considerable. In total, ACQ gained approximately 35,000 new shareholders, all of whom joined at the same time.

The listing capitalized the company with SEK 3.5 billion. The goal is to identify a target company to acquire within 36 months. We will look for a quality, sustainable, Nordic company valued at between SEK 3 – 7 billions.

The listing was thus a starting point for ACQ and the work of identifying a possible acquisition has now begun. My ambition is to find an interesting unlisted company that wants to go to the stock exchange together with ACQ. I hope is that ACQ will be an attractive option for companies considering a listing. ACQ offers a listed environment with visible owners who, through value-creating initiatives and long-term commitment, contribute to create a good return for shareholders.

Henrik Blomquist,
CEO ACQ Bure AB

DESCRIPTION OF ACQ

ACQ is an acquisition company established on the initiative of Bure Equity AB on October 26, 2020. ACQ was listed on the Nasdaq Stockholm on March 25, 2021 and raised SEK 3.5 billion in conjunction with the listing. The listing also resulted in ACQ gaining approximately 35,000 new shareholders.

ACQ aims to acquire a Nordic, sustainable, quality company valued at SEK 3-7 billions within 36 months, where there are good opportunities to create good returns for shareholders through value-creating initiatives and long-term commitment.

ACQ intends to acquire 100 per cent of the target company but may, at the same time, offer the previous owners and management the opportunity to reinvest in ACQ. In the first instance, available liquidity in the form of cash will be used to finance the acquisition. Depending on the financing needs at the time of the acquisition, the Board will also evaluate alternative sources of financing such as debt financing and/or raise additional equity.

Bure Equity is a so-called sponsor of ACQ and owns 20 per cent of its shares after the listing and intends to also be a long-term principal owner of the company that ACQ acquires. As a sponsor, Bure provides services from its investment organization to assist ACQ in identifying, evaluating, and acquiring a target company. ACQ's Board of Directors acts as an investment committee and decides whether or not to enter into an acquisition agreement. If a decision is made to enter into an agreement on an acquisition, the Board will also convene an Extraordinary General Meeting of ACQ where a decision will be made on whether the acquisition is to be made.

The ACQ management team consists of Henrik Blomquist, Bure CEO, who has been appointed CEO on a consulting basis; Max Jonson, Bure Equity CFO, who has been appointed CFO on a consulting basis; and Johan Hähnel, CEO of Comir, who has been appointed IR manager on a consulting basis. The management team heads investment activities, ACQ's board decides to recommend an investment, and ACQ shareholders decide whether an investment is to be carried out on given terms at a general meeting. The ACQ board consists of Patrik Tigerschiöld, (also chairman of Bure), and Caroline af Ugglas, Katarina Bonde, Sarah McPhee, and Eola Änggård Runsten.

ADVANTAGES OF ACQ:

For investors

ACQ offers institutional and private investors, together with an experienced investment organization, the opportunity to invest in an unlisted company in a transparent, listed environment. The model thereby makes it possible for institutional investors on the stock exchange and the general public to invest in companies that they would not normally be able to invest in.

For target companies

Through ACQ, target companies gain a new long-term principal owner with extensive experience of value-creating company development in agreement with other owners. ACQ also gives companies an opportunity to raise capital, which can be used, for example, to accelerate growth or broaden product offerings. For the acquired company, ACQ offers access to a listed environment, and thus access to Swedish and international capital markets, which can promote the target company's continued growth and development, increase awareness of the company and strengthen its brand awareness.

For sellers

For sellers who are considering a traditional IPO, a sale to ACQ represents an opportunity to directly divest an entire holding, a degree of flexibility that is not normally found in a conventional IPO. A sale to ACQ also offers a simpler and more transparent process.

For sellers who are considering a private sale or a traditional listing process, this creates a sales process in which ACQ offers an opportunity to expose a planned sales process through a so-called dual track.

In the event of acquisitions, the target company's management will replace the current management in ACQ and, if necessary, be supplemented with new hires with stock market experience. Bure will, primarily through board representation, continue to support the company as an active owner by assisting management to implement the strategic plan that formed the basis for the acquisition. Activity is intended to be conducted in a similar way to Bure's other portfolio companies, in a collegial climate of co-operation with other board members, owners, and the CEO.
